

Weddings and Celebrations

No matter the size, venue, logistics, and requests, we have the knowledge, experience and creativity to exceed your expectations and the expectations of your guests. We have experience working in remote locations, with strict dietary guidelines, and preferences, from parties of 10 people, all the way up to 1200 functions with multiple chef attended stations. Being that we're a married couple ourselves, we realize the magnitude of the day, and how important every aspect of your day is, especially when it comes to food and beverage. We're here to make sure that all your wedding day memories are everything that you imagined.

Customizing your special day:

Our first step is to always schedule a face to face meeting so that we can get a feel of what you're envisioning for your wedding or celebration, along with any dietary restrictions and service style. We're extremely familiar with local venues, DJ's, Florists, Wineries, Distillers and Craft Beer Brewers so we can easily adapt your vision to local talent.

Working with you:

Throughout the planning process, all of the individual creativity of your event is at the forefront of our process. Once the consultation process is complete, we'll create a detailed proposal with event staffing needs and rental requirements, as well as pricing and quantities. While we always do our best to anticipate your needs in our initial proposal, we're happy to work with you to revise as required.

Menu Tasting:

If you're having trouble deciding on a menu, we're always happy to arrange a tasting in our commercial kitchen facility. Our tasting sessions can accommodate up to six people for a flat fee of $500, which is applied toward your final bill.

Save The Date:

Once we have received a signed contract and 25% deposit, we're thrilled to reserve the date in our calendar and guarantee our commitment to you and your perfect day.

The Final Touches:

One month prior to your big day, we'll arrange a meeting to ensure plans are going ahead exactly as they should. At this point, we'll finalize all details and answer any questions you may have.
